“ Aunt Clara Louise was one of the kindest people I have ever known. She was my great aunt, sister to my Grandfather, George Fausz. As a child, growing up in Ft. Wayne, IN, I have many memories of spending fun filled days with her and Uncle Burl at their home. They took me traveling in their 5th wheeler a few times, and they came to visit us in Colorado later in life, shortly before Uncle Burl passed in 2014. She had a profound impact on me, and the kind of person I grew up to be. She will be remembered always and was lived greatly by many in life. I know she is enjoying peace in Heaven with Uncle Burl.

“ Over the years that I knew my Great Aunt Clara, I was able to learn that she was the kindest and strongest woman I'd ever met. She and I would send letters to each other frequently, and it became something I greatly appreciated and looked forward to. In these letters, she shared with me her stories from World War II. I was especially intrigued by the stories of her time working as a "Rosie the Riveter," building the weapons that were crucial to an American victory. She shared what life was like at home during the War, and how difficult it was to wait for Burl to return home to her. These stories in particular really touched my heart. I didn't get to see her often, due to distance, but she was still able to leave an everlasting impact on my life through the lessons and stories she shared with me in her letters. She truly was an outstanding woman. Her contributions to this country, and the people who knew her, will never be forgotten.
