Preferred memorials are to Marion Public Library for the Indiana Room and Museum, in care of Bailey-Love Mortuary, 35 West Park Drive, Huntington, Indiana, 46750.

Barbara was born on February 11, 1929 in Indianapolis, the daughter of Maurice Evans Kimball and Ruth Emma (Robbins) Kimball. She was a 1946 graduate of Marion High School. In 1950, she graduated from Ball State Teacher's College in Muncie. She married Edwin R. Love on June 10, 1951 in Marion; he preceded her in death on May 24, 1996. Barbara opened school libraries at Eastbrook High School and Allen Elementary. She did a year of graduate work in Library Science at Ball State University. For 26 years, she was a librarian at the Marion Public Library and became department head of Indiana History, Genealogy, and Museum Services. She had also assisted her husband in the family business of the former Diggs Funeral Service in Marion for several years. Barbara was a member of First Christian Church in Marion. She was an organizer of and over 55-year member of the P.E.O. Chapter B.T. in Marion. She was a former member of Friends of the Marion Public Library, Grant County Historical Society, Indiana Library Federation, Lyric Club, American Association of Women, and Grant County Genealogy Club, and she served on the board of Marion Community Concerts for several years. At retirement, December 31, 2000, Governor Frank O'Bannon presented her with the prestigious Sagamore of the Wabash award. She traveled to all 50 of the United States and through Canada and Mexico; many trips were with her husband on a Harley-Davidson motorcycle. She enjoyed reading, antiquing, visiting museums, and compiling family genealogies.

Survivors include sons G. Michael (Brenda) Love of Plant City, Florida and Christopher B. (Janelle) Love, of Huntington, a daughter, Susan K. Love of Huntington, grandchildren Brian (Amber) Love of Huntington, Lesley Love of Fort Wayne, Erin (Taylor) Creedon of Brighton, Colorado, and Kerry Love of Westminster, Colorado, and great grandchildren Brady, Ethan, Avery, Wren, Claire, Finley, and Anna. She is preceded in death by her parents, husband, a son, James E. Love, an infant son, Ronald "Ronnie" Love, and a sister, Deirdre Simons.

“ To the Love families,

Sending prayers and good thoughts to you all, as you remember an amazing woman. For many years, your Mother WAS the Marion Library to me, and I fondly remember her kind and helpful manner. I'm pretty fond of the children she raised as well.

“ The last few years Mrs. Love lived in Marion, whenever I would see her out and about or at the library, I would tell her, "You are one of my favorite people." It was true, but she would brush it off with, "You ALWAYS say that." She was pure class and I loved the times over the years I would be able to sit in her beautiful home and talk with her. What a blessing she was to me.

Mike, Chris and family, my most sincere sympathy,
