“ Brandon is like family to me and all his family as well...Brandon has always been a great man who loves his family and friends and all his little cousins as well...Every summer I worked with Brandon he always made sure to always bring one of his younger "boy" cousins with us to work in order to teach them an awesome skill set.. "sealcoating, asphalt paving" in order to pass the skills sets to perform an amazing job and to build character and responsibility in the younger generation. He was always the first to lend a helping hand or and ear to listen with....he was a man that never "not" had a smile on his face. He was and still is a good friend that I will always look up to and always miss.....I know for a fact he will still be asked for his advice in my times of need.
