“ Growing up, my sister and I spent a lot of time with Chris and Chad. Usually, Chris and I were always outside off on some adventure (running in fields or playing in rivers). Chad and Patti were content to stay at home and hang out together. Even as a child Chad was pretty easy going. He would play dress up, barbies, and My Little Pony with my sister and never complain. Every time he came to visit he would dump out our huge crayon bank and count out the pennies in little stacks. After figuring out how much we had, he would try and negotiate to make that money his. :) He always had a smile on his face, he was always up for a good time, and he was really really good at talking you out of your money. Chad was a beacon of light in our family and he will be forever missed. Gail, Christopher, and Justin, I am so sorry for your loss and I love you all!

“ Chad was one of my roommates in Clark Hall at Vincennes back in '01. We managed to keep in contact throughout the last 12 years, and the last week of Feb this year he came down to Indianapolis to celebrate my 30th B-day with me and some friends. He had an awesome paper ID, and managed to get into all but one bar with it! The timing of this situation is awful but I am so glad I was able to spend time with him one last time. I will miss you man, just keep on keepin on and dont let that paper ID hold you back:)

“ Chadaroo! I'm going to miss you so much. From our deployment, to being roommates to visiting after we moved apart; I will cherish all those times and every single moment in between. There was never a bad time with you in the 5 years I've known you. And in those years you have become so important to me. I can honestly say I love you with my whole heart. There are so many wonderful qualities in you, anyone that knows you is aware of this, but your best trait is your sense of humor. You can make anyone smile with the randomness you think of. I will always remember you and all the good times we had! keep people on their toes up there with your wit and save room for GTL baby! Miss and love you ALWAYS Chadaroo. You, me and TJ- 3 best friends forever!

Love, Chris

“ Chad,

My nephew, my God Son...no words can express the sorrow that is in my heart. I watched as you grew from a fearless boy into a fearless man, a man that served his country proudly...and you made us all proud of you!

I will miss that young boy, I will miss that proud fearless man, I will miss and long to hear your "Hey Uncle Scott"!

I will forever be honored and proud to call you my nephew and God Son!

Love Uncle Scott

“ Chad was a good man, a strong man, a man filled with life and love to give. I cannot express in words my grief for him and his family. It is indescribable. I am forever thankful to him for showing me the real and true love and warmth, kindness and open giving heart that I had never seen before. His presence was one to remember, as a blessing to have in life, for us all to have, and I cherished every second we shared together and there is no one on this entire earth that can ever replace him. He deserved the best, he deserved more time. I hold him close to me, my love will never ever change. Chad, I love you with all my heart and soul forever and always, no limits no boundaries...all u gave me meant the world and over, I hope you know that. I am proud and honored to have had you in my life. I love you babes. Love, Jessica

“ I worked with Chad at the Federal Hospital while he was stationed in Las Vegas. All though we had our differences at times, we always seemed to work things out & remain friends, About a month or so ago I called Chad out of the blue to make sure things were good between us as friends. After a long chat we both knew things were indeed good. I am so glad I made that call, so that my heart knows things with us were all good. We were always playing pranks on each other, I remember I use to tease him that he looked liked the actor Edward Norton, I would say silly things like "What's the first rule in fight club?" Or I would print out pics of Ed Norton & tape them to his desk. We had a lot of laughs. I will miss him & I know Chad will be deeply missed by many people at Nellis AFB. Love to you Chad, & to your family & friends. We're all good my friend. See you again someday.

“ Chad was one of those people who shined. The room was lighter with him in it, and filled with laughter. I want to thank Chad for his service to our country .I'm proud of his accomplishments in the Air Force. I understand what he sacrificed for his role in the War and it pains me. Chad you were loved and will be missed so very much.
