“ To the family of Jeff, I am truly sorry for your loss. Jeff and I go way back. We spent many years on the road singing together, worshipping, and serving an awesome God. Jeff had so much compassion for leading the Lost. I will never forget, my husband and i were visiting a small church that Jeff was the praise and worship leader and he called me out. He asked me to join him on stage. He knew I absolutely hated that but of course, he wouldn't take no for an answer. He lead that service and I believe about 15 lost came forward. We hadnt seen each other for several years and I'm so glad to hear that he was leading again. May our Lord comfort you all during your time of sorrow and remember Jeff is singing with the angels now. Lots of Love.

“ I spent many hours with Jeff and Jennifer in church, and witnessing in the streets. Through the late 80s and early 90s I got to know Jeff fairly well. As with me, and most others, Jeff struggled to overcome, but the key is that he struggled. He fought. I was privileged to be prayed over by Jeff and other men in our church and bible-study group, and I prayed for him as well. Time passes and I lost track of Jeff as life happened, but I know he was a young man who earnestly sought Jesus in his heart. In some ways, the deck seemed to be stacked against Jeff, but as I said, he fought. To his children, and everyone else who loves this man, I offer my condolences.
