

Kent L. Jackson

March 13, 1951 - December 31, 2017

Kent L. Jackson, age 66, of Huntington, died at 12:24 p.m. Sunday, December 31, 2017 at Parkview Regional Medical Center in Fort Wayne.

Kent was born on March 13, 1951 in Huntington, the son of Kenneth L. and Wilma (Obenhour) Jackson. He graduated from Huntington North High School in 1969 and married Christine E. Hess on January 27, 1973. Kent worked as a fabricator at Koester's Body and Frame in New Haven and was a faithful servant of Faith Community Church of God in Huntington. He loved to fly model airplanes and was a member of the Academy of Model Aeronautics. He also enjoyed woodworking and was a handyman who could restore just about anything. His grandsons were his "number one".

Surviving in Huntington are his wife of almost 45 years, Christine E. Jackson, a son, Jason (Lisa) Jackson, and a daughter, Keely M. (Troy) Oswald, and four grandsons, Trenton T. Jackson, Cameron B. Oswald, Eli W. Oswald, and Cooper J. Jackson. Also surviving is a brother, Danny (Brenda) Jackson of Waynedale and a sister, Pam Stephens of Andrews. His parents precede him in death.

Visitation will be from 3 - 7 p.m. Friday, January 5, 2018 at Faith Community Church of God, 3615 North Norwood Road, Huntington, Indiana. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, January 6, 2018 at Faith Community

Church of God with Pastor Micah Mobley officiating.

Preferred memorials are to Faith Community Church of God, in care of Bailey-Love Mortuary, 35 West Park Drive, Huntington, Indiana 46750.

“ The bulk of my memories of Kent were from my young childhood. My dad died when I was only eight years old and so my memories of him are few. Nearly every memory of dad, however, also included Kent. They were thick as thieves and just as mischievous. I miss those days and the good times we all shared. Kent was a man of principle and conviction. A Jack of all traits, I can't think of anything that he didn't conquer when he set his mind to it. From building monster trucks to model airplanes to just about anything maintenance related. He loved his family to the moon and back and it showed in so many ways. His legacy lives on in Jason and Keely, who are both strong and driven people. Their futures are bright because of the father and husband that he was. I will miss my uncle.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Kent this fall when I began going to Faith Community Church of God. He and Chris welcomed me and my girls with great warmth and kindness. He will be truly missed here, but we will rejoice in Heaven again one day.
Love all you!
Praying for your family,
