I have spent the last few days thinking of what I could say to you Grandpa, and there are no words to describe what I am feeling. Although saddened by losing you, I feel blessed that through your suffering in the end I got one last day to see your face light up when you saw me and for you to play one last little joke on me, then to know that you no longer are suffering means everything to me. I love you Grandpa

“ Larry was a caring, loving person, and we feel blessed that we had him in our lives. He was a very dear friend. Though we have an emptiness in our hearts right now, we hope to see him again one day in heaven. Our sympathies and prayers go out to his family for peace and comfort; especially to his daughters who so selflessly cared for him these last months. What a true demonstration of love! God bless you!

Dawn & Kayleigh.

When we bend our knee and pray to God and we ask him to Heal our loved one, we already have a salution in our hearts and our minds about how we would like God to answer the prayer and God knows what we think the answer should be. God is full of wisdom and knows whats best for us. God has answerd your pray of healing and i am sure its not exactly how you wanted it answered. God took away his pain and suffering and he has placed an angle in heaven that will be looking after you and your family. God's Kingdom is stronger now with the arrival of your dad/grandpa. I will be asking God in my prayers to guide you through the healing process and that God uses the Holy Spirit to fill the void that is left behind by your loss.

*Psalm 73:23-24
New International Version (NIV)*

*23 Yet I am always with you; you hold me by my right hand.
24 You guide me with your counsel, and afterward you will take me into glory.*

Daddy, over the years we talked 5 or more times a day and about everything under the sun. I would have thought that we had talked about everything, but today I realized there was still so many things we could have talked about. I miss you so!!! Cant wait to get to the big cook-out/fast-pitch game in the sky and have our next conversation. I love you so much, you were the best!!!
