Larry was born September 9, 1950 in Bridgeport, Connecticut, the son of Alfred and Lillian (Torti) D'Amato. He graduated from Huntington High School in 1969, where he earned his bragging rights as an outstanding athlete. He was on the high school's State Championship Baseball team, and he continued to play fast-pitch baseball for 30 years. Larry's loyalty was with the Yankees, but he kept an eye on the Cubs and celebrated when they won the 2016 World Series. In his youth, he started to bowl and continued for over 40 years, winning many tournaments with his teams; his enthusiasm could always be heard when he would say “good luck, good bowling.” Always a sports enthusiast, he also enjoyed playing golf, and he followed IU basketball and Notre Dame football. He married Carol Fishbaugh on April 27, 1974; she preceded him in death on April 17, 2003. For 40 years, Larry was a letter carrier in Huntington for the United States Postal Service. He was a member of Huntington Moose Lodge #837, where he held Officer positions. Larry enjoyed his family and friends and was a loyal patron at the Corner Tavern and the Uptown.

Survivors include his significant other - Loretta M. Przybylinski of Huntington; a sister - Sharon (Rick) Stell of Huntington; a daughter - Lisa (Brad) Schoppman of Huntington; a son - Joseph (Fabiola) D’Amato of Huntington; two stepsons - Chris (Gaby) Craft of Kendallville and Scott (Alyssa) Everett of Las Vegas, Nevada; stepdaughter - Kelly (Kris) Kennoy of Chesterton; eight grandchildren - Lillian, Mary-Ann, Teresa, Kaitlyn, Kora, Mason, Kamille (Cornmeal), and Leiken; and a niece - Dayna. His parents and wife precede him in death.
