“ I was best friends with Ann in 5th and 6th grades and very fortunately was able to reconnect with her on Facebook and get up to date with each other. I just found out about her death tonight and am very sorry for everyone's loss. She will always hold a very special place in my heart.

“ My brother was crazy about Michael Ann. From college days, he always had a spark for her. Finally, in the weird way life has of figuring itself out, they found each other again and enjoyed each other's company till the end. It is so nice for me to think about them being in heaven together, with no pain or sadness. Thank you Michael Ann for making my brother happy.

“ In recent days, as Michael Ann was battling her illness, she still had her sense of humor even though it wasn't always easy to communicate. She still knew how to give Steve a hard time. I'm glad I got the chance to spend a little time with her and witness the sibling teasing. Rest in peace with your Lord, Michael Ann. May God comfort all family left behind.

“ I will remember Michael Ann for being witty, pretty, loving to her family, and concerned for anyone who was hurting. I especially enjoyed listening to her and Steve laughing over the littlest things:) Lastly, even toward the end of her life when she had a hard time focussing, she would still "lock in" to the sermon from the preachers on T.V. We will hang on to the memories until we meet again! Welcome home Michael Ann! Nancy Durrwachter

“ Even in Aunt Michael Ann's sickness, she could still give an awesome eye roll to dad's cheesy jokes.

“ I have many fond memory's of Michael Ann which go back to my childhood when she would baby-sit me. I choose to remember my sister when she was healthy and happy. I know she is happier and better now than she has been recently and for that I am glad. I hope she is hugging those who have gone before her. I will see her again.....there will be a reunion. “ Michael Ann took me to Manning's Farm over Easter weekend 1977. She wanted me to try their great ice cream. But because she was always so hyper about bad smells, she waited in the car with the windows up and a handkerchief over her nose while the ice cream was purchased. If I remember correctly it was an unusually hot Easter weekend. The car was boiling by the time we came back with the ice cream but she didn't care. She was not going to smell those cows!

I was reminded of this in April. We were on the way to Fort Wayne for her daily radiation treatments. As we were traveling on 469 she was limited in her speech but her face was all contorted until I realized that we were behind a semi hauling livestock of some kind. I laughed, mumbled some apology and passed the truck She settled down and we finished our trip. Always a funny sister-Steve Didn't really know your sis, but I know that she was thought very highly of by many and I am sure that you were close and I feel for your loss. Praying for all in the difficult days ahead.

The Whipps were special to Cliff and I and we watched the "kids" grow up. May God be especially close during this difficult time. Ann Truax
