“ “Storman Norman” we all called him. He was our bus driver and was good at his job. Lots of fun on his bus. I worked for him in the summers, bailing hay and other odd jobs around the farm. He was a great and fair boss. Learned some great values working for him. He was never afraid of hard work that's for sure! Godspeed Norman.

“ My sincere condolence to Normans family. I met Norman only a couple years ago when we discovered we were cousins. We rode around with the Wagner's (Beverly Wagner had discovered our relationship through ancestry data) as Norman pointed out things of interest to me. I was adopted at birth and had little knowledge of my past. Norman had known my birth mother and was eager to help me gain that information. We talked often by phone and we both enjoyed those conversations. We kept reminding each other we were the only cousins we had left and needed to stay alive, so we could do an in person visit after we got past COVID. I will miss him and still look forward to seeing him in heaven.
