“ Mrs. Kuiper-Moore was my tutor back when I lived in London with my parents. She was a strict but loving tutor and I was probably not the most motivated student but she was always there to support me and show that she cared. I will be forever grateful for everything she has done for me.

“ Paula was a great sister-in-law to me in my teenage years when we all lived in the UK. We had great talks. I always enjoyed the way she teased David. There was a lot of laughter between them. I can still hear her chuckling away now. Unfortunately, after David and Paula moved to the US we saw less of each other, but I enjoyed the wonderful newsletter filled with all of Paula's love for gardening, cats, tutoring children, and reading. My own school children still read the books and magazines she sent me for my English language teaching at primary schools in the Netherlands. Her legacy for literacy lives on!

“ Paula was the most wonderful sister-in-law I could have wished for. She was the epitome of love, kindness and generosity. She adored David and therefore spoilt him. I shall always love and miss her.
