“ I made a little mistake. Pegs husband Dick and my husband talked a lot together and both died of brain cancer really close together. Peg and i were not too close as I worked most of my life but we knew if one of us needed anything we would be there for one. Peg had so much company as she was so loved by everyone. I am missing her so much when I look across the road and know she is no longer there. we were neighbors since 1965.

*Love to all

“ Aunt Peg has been a blessing to us all! Shortly before her passing she commented “we are one family” and the words couldn’t be more true. She loved us as her own and was always there for each one of us ever in need, she was the most selfless, giving person we know. She was one you could go to to just talk, or spend a day of card playing or shopping, but it usually included food! Although she is gone from us here on earth she will forever remain in our hearts. The memories of the house across the alley, with the porch light on as our signal, will never dim. Will see you again in Heaven someday, where you will see and hear us again! We love you Aunt Peg, through eternity 💜

Love,
Pam and Larry

“ So sorry to hear about Aunt Peg. She was a wonderful woman. My Grandmother, Eileen, would always brag about how good of a cook she was. She was absolutely right! Many fond memories. April Bauer
