“ Oh honey you are such an amazing person, going to miss that laugh and the smile you put on everyones faces. You were such a good person, we made it through hell and back still strong as ever. We got through your cancer together, we got sober together, we ran a successful business together, yes we fought, yes we were knocked down a few times but we always stood right back up and fought through it and still were stronger than. We raised beautiful children together and taught them everything they needed to know to not make the same choices we did, we showed them the right way of life. You are my rock, my soulmate, the love of my life. This isn't good bye, but a see you later. The day will come when you will be waiting at those gates with your arms wide open. Whispering in my ear I love you baby girl. Until then you will never be forgotten or replaced. I love you baby forever and always, your baby girl
