“ Samantha. I miss u so much. One of the best memories that I have of u is when I had been filling up balloons with shaving cream to have a shaving cream fight with the kids. I was planning on doing this over the weekend and you had different plans because I hadn't gotten many done and you came over and grabbed a few cans of the shaving cream and started to douse me right in the middle of my kitchen and then we made it out side and got the kids involved and we were all covered head to toe in shaving cream but had such a good time... I love you little sister and miss you more then words can express... I know your watching over us..and until we see each other again baby sister fly high.....
