“ I remember when all the times I got in trouble or was locked up or even when I wasn't locked up my mom was the only one that ever cared about be and was the only one that was ever there for me. My mom and me bumped heads a lot but at the end of the day she was jus caring about me and being there for me . she's the only one I've ever actually been able to talk to about my problems or my feeling. She always listened and she always called me down and gave me good advise. Sometime I thought she didnt pay attention but my mom always seem to know when something was bothering me or was wrong with me. I know some of the things she did weren't the always good and I know she made some mistakes jus like everyone else but she was a very kind caring good woman,mother,grandma,and a best friend my mom didnt deserve to die but IG god had other plans in mind and since I didnt get to say goodbye I jus wanna say I'm really sorry mom for ever disrespecting u and I'm sorry for putting u through a lot and I really appreciate u for being my mom and caring for me I love and miss u so much its still hard getting over the fact that ur gone I don't think I will ever get over it. Im always thinking about u and times like this I really wish u was here . I hope one day soon I'll be able to see and talk to u again I love u Rip mom - Aka Scotia Marea Mockobee

“ Scotia and I had never know each other, until she had heard of my pancreatic disease that was killing me and I was waiting to see if I could get a transplant. She wrote me often to check on me, as I did to her too. We became pretty good friends, and she would always make me smile. I am so saddened to hear of such a caring heart passing at such a young age. My condolences to the family, as well as Prayers for the easing of grief. Scotia, you will be loved and missed by many, many people! ”
