“ When I worked at Tipton Place Spencer was my pal. He looked at me one day during covid quarantine and got misty eyed and said; you know sometimes we need just a hug. And I said; well Spencer if a hug makes you happy I will give you one every day. And I hugged him everyday while I was there. Sorry for your loss Marty.

“ Gonna miss this onry little snot! last year this weekend I was picking him up off of the floor while he was cussing at me and my appendix was burst. After I picked him up he calmly looked at me and asked why I hadn't gone to er yet... lol. He was a handful but we had some great conversations and loved giving each other a hard time.
