“ Doug and Laura Dillon were some of the first people I met after moving to Andrews Indiana. Driving home from Working at the VFW in Huntington one winters evening I hit some slushy snow and put my car into a drift. Laura came along and stopped to see if she could help. In a little to hard. She told me she was going to drive home to get her hubby to help me. Doug came along with his truck and promptly pulled the bumper off the old pinto I was driving. He got me unstuck and I had a good laugh cause that bumper was probably held on by a little bit of duct tape. I later learned that Doug had spent some time not too far from my home in Northern Michigan. His family had been stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force base in Oscoda Michigan. He was there the year it had actually snowed on the Fourth of July. I actually had a witness to one of my favorite stories. Doug will be missed but now I know John has another good friend sitting on that riverside in Heaven... Karen Carr Biehl
